

BURK & CO.'S GREAT MID-SUMMER STOCK-RELIEF UNLOADING SALE

Surpasses in Bargain Character Any Similar Event of the Past or Present

The overwhelming response accorded this colossal stock clearing movement all week was a most flattering tribute to the public confidence bestowed upon this great establishment. It presented a clear, pointed demonstration of the trade-impelling powers of bona fide reductions on apparel of assured quality standards offered upon methods that have no suggestions of duplicity. See window displays, or better still, examine the offerings at closer range, on the inside. You will not be disappointed no matter how high your bargain expectancy.

BOLEN IS AGAIN CHIEF WITNESS

Repeats Previous Testimony in Latest Case Against Claude Allen.

NO NEW FACTS BROUGHT OUT

Evidence of Other Witnesses on Stand Also Is Along Former Lines.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
Wytheville, Va., July 18.—Judge D. W. Bolen, who was defending Floyd Allen in the case that precipitated the shooting up of the Hillville courthouse last March, and the star witness for the prosecution in the trial of the Allen, was examined today in the case against Claude Allen, charged with murdering Commonwealth Attorney Foster. Judge Bolen was put on the stand at 9:30 o'clock, his testimony lasting three hours. He was Floyd Allen's counsel at the time of the shooting at Hillville, and told of the affair, the circumstances which led up to it and the incidents relative thereto. He testified in the case of the Commonwealth vs. Floyd Allen and in two former cases of the Commonwealth vs. Claude Allen, consequently his story of the affair was marked by a sameness with that of the other trials, but his description of the courtroom and the positions of the parties participating in the shooting seemed to be clearer and more accurate.

He testified to having seen Claude and Sidna Allen shoot first at Judge Massey, and at Claude's first shot he saw the hit fly from his coat. Judge Bolen is in a better position to give an accurate account of the affair, because he is the only noncombatant who did not try to leave the room

He dropped on the floor, where he remained during the fusillade. He is also a witness in whom the jury will have confidence, being the counsel and a friend of Floyd Allen, and a witness for the Commonwealth in these cases, showing that he is entirely without prejudice to either side. He told how he and others ministered to the wants of the wounded and dying after the shooting and the position he found them in.

The defense on the cross-examination sought to prove that the shots found in Massey's chair and in Sheriff Welch's jacket came from the clerk's side of the room.

Upon agreement with the Commonwealth, Judge Bolen was allowed to testify as to the character of the defendant as a witness for the defense, but upon examination he said he knew nothing either pro or con as to the defendant's character.

Mr. Thompson was the second witness examined this morning. His examination lasted only a few minutes, and he testified chiefly as to whispering which took place between Claude and his father, and to seeing Victor Allen with one of the Edwards boys shooting from the rear of the room.

Court adjourned at one o'clock for dinner. At the opening of the afternoon session, Mr. Thompson was recalled for a few brief questions, after which Preston Fowler was examined. This witness had great difficulty in locating the door in the courtroom through which he left as compared with the doors in the Hillville courtroom. However, he noticed Victor Allen with a black scarf on, but apparently the most of his attention was given to getting out of the way of the shots. This year has been a source of much difficulty to the witnesses, some of whom identify Victor Allen by it. And others confuse him with Wesley Edwards on that account.

Harley Quisenberry, another witness who was particularly about getting out of the way, was introduced and testified to seeing Foster near the corner of the bar and a young man standing on a bench in the back of the room shooting at him. He was unable to tell the name of the man but said it looked like Friel Allen. This is presumably true, as Friel testified to shooting at Foster from the back of the room when he was on the stand at the former trial.

Dexter Goad, the clerk of the Carroll County court whose shooting it is claimed saved the town on the day of the tragedy, was the next witness. His examination lasted an hour and forty-five minutes. He gave the same account of the shooting as before and was corroborated by other witnesses.

The cross-examination was conducted by Judge Hairston, and the defense sought several times to tangle him in his statements made on the trials with his testimony today. He was questioned carefully as to his relations towards the Allen and the time when he drew his pistol, the defense having contended on the former trial that the shooting at Hillville was the outcome of a political feud between Goad and the Allen, which was precipitated by Goad drawing his pistol in the courtroom. His examination was concluded at 5:45 o'clock, at which time court adjourned.

Due to the rain there were few women present and the number of spectators was small.

Pulaski Team Defeated.
Dublin, Va., July 18.—Yesterday in the second game of the series, the Williams and Mary College baseball team defeated Pulaski by the score of 4 to 0. The game was characterized by fast playing, Pulaski losing owing to inability to hit, and exceedingly advanced no player beyond second base. The feature of the game was the batting of Addison, James and Bill for Williams and Mary, and the fielding of Wyner for Pulaski. The Williams and Mary battery did great work.

R. H. E.
Williams and Mary ..... 4 8 2
Pulaski ..... 0 0 0
Summary: Two-base hits—James and Hall, of Williams; and Mary, Double play—Williams and Mary; 3 Pulaski; 1 Struck out—by Addison, 11; by Carpenter, 1; Batteries—Williams and Mary, Addison and Jordan; Pulaski, Carpenter and Smith.

WELLS WINS FIGHT IN EIGHTH ROUND

New York, July 18.—Bombardier Wells, heavy-weight champion of England, knocked out Tom Kennedy, of New York, after two minutes and forty-four seconds of fighting in the eighth round of their bout here to-night.

The knockout came as the culmination of the fastest fight seen here since the days of the Horton law. The deciding blow was a right smash to the jaw, which sent Kennedy down, his head hanging over the lower rope. The referee counted Kennedy out, and his seconds carried him to his corner. Once before in the round Kennedy had gone down for a count of six, when Wells hooked his left to the face and sent his right to the jaw.

Wells was by far the quickest throughout the fight, which was scheduled to go ten rounds, and his idea of direction was excellent. Kennedy, in some of the rounds, accepted enough punishment to knock out an ordinary man, but he stuck to his work. Although he was outclassed and outboxed all the way, he made a plucky fight. Wells, while he cut his man up with a rain of blows, was unable to get Kennedy under control until the middle of the eighth round. Both men turned the scale at 151 1/2 pounds before entering the ring, and both were in perfect condition.

OLYMPIC REGATTA NOW IN PROGRESS

Stockholm, July 18.—The Olympic regatta, which opened here yesterday with a large number of international entries was continued today. In the second round of the single sculls, Mossor, of Hungary, defeated Veirman, of Belgium. Mossor's time was 5 minutes 22 seconds.

Butler, of Toronto, rowed over the course alone. Kusik, Russia, beat Heinrich, Austria. Time 7 minutes 55 seconds.

In the race between Kusik and Heinrich made protest, and the heat was rowed again today. In the third round of the single sculls, Kinnear, England, beat Stankke, Germany. The Englishman, who was paddling at the end, finished the course in 7 minutes 59-10 seconds.

In the second round for outrigger fours, Denmark beat Finland by one length in 7 minutes 3 seconds. England, Thames Rowing Club, beat the Norway Students by a length and a half. Time, 7 minutes 14-10 seconds.

In the third round for outrigger fours, Christiania beat Belgium by three lengths in 7 minutes 5 seconds. Germany, Ludwigshafen, rowed over. In the race for outrigger eights, New College, beat Stockholm by a length and a quarter. Time 6 minutes 19 seconds.

Length of the course was 2,000 metres (about 1 1/4 miles). The Leander eight beat the Australian crew by two-thirds of a length, the Leander thus reversed the result for the grand challenge cup at Henley, when the Sydney Rowing Club's eight won by three-quarters of a length. It was a magnificent race between the Leander eight and the Australians, the leading over three-fourths of the course. Both crews were rowed out at the finish.

The eight representing the Berlin Rowing Club won their heat in 6:22 1/5. In the third round of the single sculls Kusik beat Levicky, Hungary, by one length in 7 minutes 41-5 seconds. Denmark won the final heat in the largest fours, beating Sweden by four lengths in 7 minutes 44-5 seconds. The heat between Mossor, Hungary, and Veirman, Belgium, in the single sculls was at first credited to Mossor, but was ordered rowed on the ground of a false start. Veirman won by three lengths, in 7 minutes 22 seconds.

In the final round of the individual scull competition, Hungary won first, second and third.
